PROFILE INFO

In the words of Beyonce's husband, "I'm not a businessman, I'm a Business Man." We all have unique gifts that may seem disparate but are actually connected. Our life's work is to find the best strategies to manifest our full selves. I love storytelling (art), transforming systems (policy), strategy & negotiation, and supporting women in discovering their voices and dreams. I refuse to choose between my loves. Let me help you discover your passions and live a life where you don't have to choose.

BIO

Marsheda Ewulomi, Esq. is a classically trained attorney who graduated Cum Laude from Northwestern Pritzker School Law and supports advocacy work in Chicago around police accountability, violence prevention, and transforming the criminal legal system. Marsheda also graduated from the University of Michigan with Distinction with a Bachelors in English and AfroAmerican and African Studies.

As a former secondary English teacher, Marsheda combines her love of teaching and advocacy through her consultancy, Ewulomi Works LLC, where she provides strategy consulting for social justice organizations and business owners in disrupting the status quo. She is also the Founder and CEO of She-Verse LLC and She-Versity LLC, sister organizations that are dedicated to supporting women and girls in identifying who they are, pursuing their purpose, and owning the power that comes from that journey.

Lastly, as the daughter of immigrants, and great-great-granddaughter of sharecroppers, Marsheda moves with a sense of purpose to ensure that the perspectives she represents and the voices of individuals with the least access to power inform her work. Marsheda is a native of Lansing, Michigan, and currently resides in Phoenix, Arizona, but maintains her ties to Chicago and Michigan.
